CITY COUNCIL SURRENDERS ALL CONTROL OF POLICE

City Solicitor Instructed to Have Necessary Bylaw Ready by Next Tuesday.

OTHER DEPARTMENTS WILL BE INCLUDED

Members of Council All Deprecate
Alderman Interference, With Police.

WHAT COMMISSIONED LAST NIGHT?

Instructed the city solicitor to prepare a by-law taking from the council and placing in the hands of the commissioners, control and administration of the following departments:

The Fire Department, city engineer, clerk, medical officer of health, industrial commission and information agent.

Appointed a committee to consider the possibility of appointing an independent police commission or other addition to the existing commission board, whose duties will be concerned more particularly with police matters.

Passed the following money-laws: For car barns, $10,000; for street lighting system, $75,000; for phone subscribers, $1,000; for parks and drives, $10,000; for waterworks, $10,000; for paving, $10,000; for sewerage, $10,000.

The first motions of interest to arise at the adjourned meeting of the city council last night were in connection with the resignation of Chief of Police Lancy and the suggested creation of a separate police commission by placing its administration in the hands of an independent commission.

First, Alderman East moved that the motion with City Clerk Cox be carried to "rest." This communication, was all that was said on the subject, and the city commissioners have since been very quiet.

Then, Alderman East recommended, "Your commissioners beg to report as follows:

"That the City Clerk, Chief Constable Lancy tendered his resignation, to take effect immediately or as soon as can be arranged, so that the city commissioners may be able to accept very quickly, the new chief of police."

Officers and members of the force yesterday expressed themselves as hopeful that Chief Lancy could be persuaded to remain head of the department, especially when they learned that the commissioners had refused to accept his resignation.

"We'll never have as good a man as he," said one of the officers, who has been on the force for several years, "and all the men are with me; I say that I hope he will not leave us yet awhile."

On Aug. 19, he submitted at the next meeting of the council, the same day, August 27th, placing the absolute control of the police department in the hands of the city commissioners.

"Further, it is resolved that the city commissioners be instructed to submit to the next meeting of the council placing all their authority for the control of the police department in the hands of the city commissioners."

City assessors, city treasurer, health, claims and damage agent, industrial agent and information agent.

That is, passed, but not as he intended, for he had a similar motion, which agreed with that proposed by Ald. Douglas in every particular, but did not contain the idea that a separate police commission should be appointed as soon as the new commissioners were in office.

To prevent a repetition of the unwarranted visit of Alderman East, my patience has become exhausted.

The present condition of affairs is the history of the majority of police departments all over the world, the place where a separation of the police from the control of magistrates has been effected during the past four months, or since the first evidence of interest in the matter was given, would be taken towards this end. My last effort in this direction, when I wrote him, was to get him to call a meeting of the commissioners to discuss the matter, and to accept the resignation of Alderman East.

"Your commissioners have carefully considered the recommendations of Alderman East and have agreed to that in their opinion it is important that for the present control of the police force be placed entirely with your commissioners, and we would further recommend to the chief constable in regard to placing the control of the force under an independent commission, that the necessary legislation be applied for at the next sitting of the legislature.

It would be well to add that the commissioners should consist of the district court judge or judge of the peace, together with a police magistrate and the mayor. Similar systems are followed in the largest cities, and are of opinion that Edmonton is no exception to the rule.

Then the discussion started.

Alderman East Resigned. Alderman Douglas at once moved that the report be adopted. He couched his remarks in such words as "that the report of the city commissioners be adopted as read, excepting the clause giving the appointment of a separate police commission; and that the city solicitor be authorized to draft the necessary

CHIEF LANCEY'S

The resignation of Chief of Police Lancey comes as the natural and logical result of the refusal of the city council to allow the investigation of charges made against the administration of the police department by a member of the force. No other course was open to him than to resign his position in the city under the circumstances. An alderman of the city, it is alleged, made certain statements explicitly and directly reflecting upon the competence or honesty of the police force. Through records in the courts these statements became public. The head of the department came to the rescue of the city commissioners and then asked the council to authorize the holding of a judicial investigation into the truth or falsity of the charges. The council refused to allow the investigation. The refusal left the chief of police under the stigma of a not-disproven allegation of either incompetence or dishonesty. Lancey, a member of the council and one of the members who voted to prevent the investigation, condemned by the allegations of one member of the council, and refused by the council the opportunity of vindicating himself, only one course was open to an honest and capable official—to get out before his good name had been further dragged in the mud.

THE GOVERNMENT MUST ASSUME RESPONSIBILITY

Some friends of Mr. Borden seem anxious to relieve the Premier of a share of the privileges and responsibilities which attach to the office of First Minister of the Dominion. They urge in some newspapers supporting the Government that before announcing a naval policy Mr. Borden should take Sir Wilfrid Laurier into his confidence, that these two should hammer out a naval scheme mutually agreeable to themselves, and that this scheme should then be put before Parliament in the form of an "entitled and agreed" proposition. This, it is argued, would prevent the naval question becoming a "party question," and would present Canadians to the world as a people united in the prosecution of a certain enterprise looking to the strengthening of the Empire's sea defenses.

What is overlooked in this view of the situation is that the procedure suggested would be an absolute repudiation of the principle of responsible government such as we have in Canada. And for that and other reasons the plan, if tried, would not work out. One of the basic principles of responsible government is that the guiding principle of the United States, say—is that the Government must govern, must assume responsibility for governing, and when it can no longer command the support of a majority of the elected representatives of the people must forthwith hand over the duties of responsible government to those who will give it such support. To set this principle aside and to adopt the rule of the party leaders would open the door to a broad of evils which would be as unwelcome to those who propose the change as to those who will oppose it. Such power would be exercised in a naval scheme which the vast majority of the Canadian people did not approve of! Would this be passed through Parliament by the criminal consent of members who ignored alike their own convictions and the convictions of their electors for the sake of exhibiting a seeming unanimity of opinion which did not really exist? And if this were done, would the matter end there? Would it not be that a party would be a party not of the mind but of the hand—before many months had passed? And would not the injury done the Empire's prestige by the political uprising against the supposedly popular naval scheme far outweigh any benefit that might for the time have been done by the pretense that we were not to be beaten? These are practical considerations to which an intelligent people should not shut their eyes when urged to cast aside the principle that the Government must be responsible and to adopt, in its stead, the system of government by committee of correspondence, by executive order, or by decree of the naval issues which had better not be debated in public.

At least the chief of police must be left to the good sense of our representatives to follow the precedent of the Mother of Parliaments in dealing with such phases of the question. But the idea of making the naval issue as an issue a novelty seems to me to be the most absurd of all possibilities. It would be the surest way of bringing it into politics. The Ministry of the day must formulate its naval policy as other Ministries have done and do under the same system of government and must assume responsibility for it as for any other governmental proposal; and the Opposition must take its stand for or against that policy, according as it commends or does not commend itself to the collective judgment of the Opposition members and the people whom they represent. To make the consideration of a naval programme impossible would be to do what Britain has not been able to do in Great Britain, nor in any other country where responsible government exists. What can be done, and should be done, is to prevent it becoming no more than a party question.

CURRENT COMMENT.

At Last—Calgary Herald—If you want to be leaden in your own writing, it is the latest advice from the medical profession. Now the secret is out, and the world is astir. The world is wide awake now, and it is bound to stay that way.

DELIBERATE ATTEMPT TO WRECK C.P.R. TRAIN

From Fredericton.

Portage la Prairie—the man of old said there were four things which were wonderful for him: the way of the wind, the way of the water, the way upon a rock; the way of a ship in the mid of the sea; and the way of a woman. A sort of combination of these modes of motion and approach is the Conservative way of the world, and it is most like the way of the serpent on the rock. The scheme is to win the election on some issue, and then claim it as a victory for protection.

A Magnificent Show.

Regina Leader—Those by whom the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevators Association was organized, and by whom its affairs have been directed since its organization have abandoned the cause for a permanent home in the city of Regina for the year which ended on July 31st last.

It is a statement which tells of a remarkable record.

Or three years ago much discussion turned upon the question of whether to locate the elevators in Saskatchewan. The farmers discussed the question. The members of the association then decided to go to the midwest, until they settled on the site.

Marks indicate that the men had been working all hours, probably early this morning, and the displaced material had been piled up in a heap. The crew has been unable to discover either spikes or bars. The sectionmen have been called in and an analysis removed from both lines of steel. The front ends of the rails being pulled apart, until they are straight again.

It is necessary here to refer to the different views which were expressed by the commission appointed to investigate the question, the Canadian government and the general waterways commission to inquire into the question of the pollution of boundary waters.

The company's financial statement and the report of the general waterways commission for a full year of operation tell not failure but of magnificent success.

The company now has 125 locals with a total of 962 subscribers. This added capital is $11,777.00.

During the year 1911, 1,000,000 bushels of grain were handled and the quantity would have been considerably greater had not the company been delayed in elevator construction in the earlier part of the two-months period.

Foolish War Scare.

Vancouver World—These repeated assurances that Britain is on the verge of war with Germany are getting very tiresome.

It is not necessary for us to argue that the war mad people will tell us what the war will be about, we might place some credence in the reports of the Canadian government that there are no territorial disputes. What can there be a war over?

There are no territorial disputes or strained diplomatic relations. Nothing clouds the horizon but words which are not written upon the paper they are written on.

Calgary, Aug. 22.—Because there was a strike of 1,000 men at the Kettle Falls lumber mills at a critical harvest time, the Canadian Pacific Railway has suspended its operation of C.P.R. schedules and the car in which they were transported were held at Kettle Falls. In these applications is involved the whole problem of the Lake of the Woods timber trade, which is being investigated at the present time. Arthur Woods engineer of the commission is at present enquiring into the subject.

THE FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL MARKETS

Today's Grain Market.

Chicago Aug. 23.—Wheat opened strong today, influenced by higher cables on unfavorable weather in the United Kingdom and some Argentine shipping. Some grain coming in early morning made the early trades and a quantity of December deliveries was disposed of at an advance of 5 cents.

The contents of the shack were entirely destroyed while the rest of the house was unharmed.

J. W. Little, Calgary, was present with the construction of the foundation for the incinerator building. When the incinerator house was completed, the incinerator will be removed from the residence of the Calgary trial. The new incinerator will be one of the most modern in Western Canada.

CITY COUNCIL SURRENS ALL

Wong. The other members have nothing to say about them or their work.

Wanted Master Best Settled.
There is no question, but that every member of this council wants to get this matter settled in the best manner. Alderman Wong, said of Ald. Landry, "and I think that the best plan would be to appoint a committee which would be responsible for this matter with the city commissioners."

Ald. Calder thought that the entire question should be referred to a special committee to bring in a report next Tuesday evening, but others thought that it should be settled at once, evidently on the principle that it is better to strike while the iron is hot.

I am in entire accord with the commissioners' report—that it will be best to let the city commissioners handle this matter.

Sentinel—With Lawyer.

We are getting a third commissioner this fall," he continued. "We now have a city hall, and we may need two more commissioners, but I never need two. The city is now so big, and growing bigger all the time, that we have the same kind of trouble on the streets, and lanes, and mud-puddles as we had in the old days."

I think that we need more commissioners."

"I am perfectly satisfied with the police administration of Const. Landry, and I am not going to interfere with him, but never have I had anything to say against the chief homicide."

Ald. MacDonald thought that it should be a good idea to have a judge preside over the trial, and that there is less danger of unwarmed criticism. And he thought that the local manufacturers, who are also to be tried, should be in a position to watch the proceedings of the police than any other man in the city.

Ald. May remarked that it was bad to hurt into the police force, and that he would speak to his four commissioners whose particular duty would be to look after the police, and see that they were well treated.

Motion Is Carried.

The first part of Ald. Douglas' motion was carried, and the committee, and after the council had discussed the matter in committee of the whole, the bill was referred to a select committee for the assessment and collection of taxes, they had nothing to say about the bill, and the mayor's office, a similar staff of experts existed in relation to the other departments.

Ald. East then presented the following resolutions and they were carried:

"Resolved, that this city council desires to go on record as being opposed to the proposal to transfer the police or their subordinates in the former administration of the details of the police force to the commissioners, to whom he is directly responsible for the proper management and control of the police department."

That a committee of the council be appointed to consider the proposal to transfer the police department more personal direction, and further.

The question of charter amendments or by-laws be considered by this committee to the extent as may be suggested at this time."

The committee appointed to consider the proposal to transfer the police department consists of Aldermen Landry, Tipton and East, with power to add to it.

Right Invited Friend.

A letter from the city commissioners pointed out that while the last election was held in accordance to the voters' lists according to the polling subdivision, and arrange the lists in alphabetical order, the city solicitor thought that this was contrary to the city charter. The assembly, however, did not care to amend the lists in order continuously, allowing any voter in the city to vote in whatever subdivision he chose. The council, however, thought that this could be the law, and would invite the solicitor to come before the council to decide that the lists be divided into divisions, the names arranged in alphabetical order, and the lists be published together in book form.

Owing to the want of the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, it was thought advisable to proclaim the morning of the third of September as a day of thanksgiving, as well as a holiday. The matter was left to a committee, who will consult the royal government.

Claim $3,000 Damages.

The commissioners submitted a complaint to the Royal Canadian Manufacturing Company, Ltd., in which they claim the sum of $3,000 for allowing their men to be employed by the railway. Eight workers were killed and forty others wounded. It will take some time to repair the damage caused.

Bald Boys in Calgary.

Calgary, Aug. 22.—The existence of bald boys has been a constant source of amusement to the boys in the city. A solicitor thought that this was contrary to the city charter.

The assembly, however, did not care to amend the lists in order continuously, allowing any voter in the city to vote in whatever subdivision he chose. The council, however, thought that this could be the law, and would invite the solicitor to come before the council to decide that the lists be divided into divisions, the names arranged in alphabetical order, and the lists be published together in book form.

To Investigate Canadian Art.

London, Aug. 22.—Sir G. R. Askwith said for Quebec today by telegram that their legal counsel, Mr. J. W. MacLean, had filed a writ of habeas corpus against the Canadian authorities. He

fed in granting the request of the Queen's Own and the Pacific Companies for the freedom of the city, and recommended that this matter be referred to a committee for investigation.

By Laws Read Third Time.
All the money bills ready were read in the House of Commons, with the exception of one for $22,100, for two bridges over the Ravines at Purcell's Point, and the bill for $10,000 for the bridge across the river with the proposed bridge over the river. Ald. Landry pointed out that the bill for the bridge across the river was introduced by the council three times now, and that it is impossible to get aid from the government to build the bridge. The bill was passed. Ald. East, however, thought that there were other matters of more pressing importance, and that the bill be left where it can be controlled or increased or manipulated either by public opinion or by the government, and responsible to just one head—and that is the people through the city commissioners. Ald. Landry said, "I do not know whether to say tonight whether I believe in a separate commission or not. I think it is better to leave it to the place of the question to the city commissioners."

101ST SMOKE NEXT TUESDAY

Cat. Caravans and the officers of the 101st, Edmonton Fusiliers, issued a most hearty invitation to all members of the community to a smoking session which is to be given at the Armoury on the evening of Tuesday, August 27th. The names of those which are to be brought up at this smoker which aim for the efficiency of the regimental organization, and which the men may be kept more in touch with one another during the war, were mentioned. Numerous meetings manifested in the alterations that portion of the armoury known as the mess hall, the function of this is being converted into a reading room, and will be fitted up completely so that the men who have no other place to repair to on long winter evenings will find some comfort among their fellows of the regiment.

The colonel hopes to see as many men present as possible thoroughly prepared to do their duty for the country.

BEATING CAUSE OF INSANITY. With the removal of Alan Gorham, a year ago, pronounced insane by Dr. Ostry, from the Stockade to the mounted police barracks, the officer detailed to report on the case arrested two men on the strength of information furnished him by the residents, who said that they had assaulted and beat the young fellow to such an extent that it took him to the Stockade. The inhabitants state that directly after the assault the boy was attacked with a lot of insults, and was caused considerable amount of offence on the part of the doctor attending him to effect a remedy. The boy was about the head, and they believe that this was the cause of the insanity. The medical police are working on the case and expect to clear it up in a few days.

VILL HONOR VETERANS.

Edmonton's St. George Society of the Dominion of Canada, met on the evening of Monday, August 26th, at their meeting place in the Old Bell Inn, to pay their respects to the other of the regular or irregular forces, either on land or at sea.

Henry Hussey, who is the organizer of the veterans parade for the occasion of the Dominion Day celebration, said there are several others who have served in the Canadian Contingent, and there is a member of the society, the one which entered the "Field of England."

The society itself, though not under the command of a general, has been in mind at all times those things which go to make for the strength of the empire together, and in giving the veterans of the Edmonton district a fitting out one of the objects of their existence.

Interviewed by a Bulletin reporter last night Mr. Hussey said: "The great proportion of the survivors in the employ of the Dominion government are engaged in the protection of the Peace River country. For the next few months they will be particularly active in this field, and I hope that our work will be advanced as possible before winter sets in."

Edmontonians and the surrounding districts are supplied with veterans of the various forces, and one object of this concert is to bring the association together, especially so that on the occasion of his royal highness' visit they may be something more than a group of old soldiers who have met for the first time on that occasion and who will want as soon as possible to get back to their units.

The names of those who have left from this part of the country have served their country in years gone by. Canada as a whole is being particularly well represented in the younger units of the empire. The roll of those who will parade early next month is being prepared to be handed down to the future generations to remind them of the spirit of the day, and to keep their flag flying over their country and themselves.

HOUSE NEARLY FLOODED.

Two women at 325 Fraser avenue had anything but a happy evening when the house at this number was flooded by water.

The two women were laying the floor in the basement in order to repair it. In order to do this it was necessary to disconnect one of the water pipes. But they had never met with the Angel Gabriel as trumpet-major preparation is made for the last

Ottawa, Aug. 25.—To a crowd through 1,400 feet of narrow, dark interior of the intake pipe at the bottom of the new aqueduct will be the work which Moses H. Nichols, a Negro real estate agent, against whom two charges of obtaining money by false pretences were preferred by Adolph Baril and Robert A. Mason. The defendant did not appear and the trial was adjourned.

Mr. Nichols was charged with his arrest for his preliminary hearing on a charge of attempted murder. The crown charged that he had no other recourse but to remand the accused for a week. The dock constable, with whom Nichols is staying, said that he was unable to get through with anything.

Yesterday afternoon he was taken to the police station for questioning, but the police station was flooded.

The stock parade on the fair grounds was a grand chance to see the splendid classes of horses and cattle shown.

The attendance for today to the grounds was 2,500.

TO CONDUCT SERVICES.

Robert Mitchell, who during the past winter conducted services in the Orpheum theatre, has secured a hall at the corner of Kingline and Belmont street for the purpose of holding services of an evangelistic nature. Services will be held each Sunday at 11 a.m. and Wednesday at 7 p.m., and a gospel meeting will be held every Saturday at the same hour.

In addition to this it is proposed to open a reading room, which will be open every day during the winter months.

One feature is invitation is extended to all to attend these meetings and to talk in the hall during the service.

It is hoped that all the city churches will give Mr. Mitchell a hearty response, and interest taking an interest in this matter and wishing to join with him may obtain further particulars for applying to Mr. Mitchell at 201 Kingline avenue.

AUSTRALIAN CADETS FOR CANADA—Contingent of cadets from the Antipodes are now in London on the way to Canada to take part in a general review before the Duke of Connaught in September.

NO WAR WITH GREAT BRITAIN SO LONG AS THE KAISER LIVES

Baron Bissing, of Berlin, Now Visiting City, Says Germany
Neither Wants Nor Talks War—Her Fleet Is for Protection Only.

"The German people do not want war with England, and was it not tacitly agreed that the two nations were to trade that existed between them? Why, Britain and her Colonies are the most important factor in the world's trade." Baron Bissing added. "The King Edward Hotel, Baroness Bissing shook her head and said: 'The majority of the German people are in favor of peace.'"

"There will be no war as long as the German Emperor lives," said the Baroness. "He is a very wise, very kind man and he loves peace."

English Press Blamed.
Baron Bissing is a fine, middle-aged man, with a good military bearing. His wife is a handsome woman of strong personality, who shows a keen interest in politics and social life. They were both united in assuring a Berlin representative that war with England would be a calamity. The English newspapers that talk with glee of the German Emperor's warlike ways are to blame, Baron Bissing said. "We want to see the two nations protecting more and more friendly."

"If Germany wants war, why does she do so on increasing her navy?"

"Why does England build her warships?" asked Baron Bissing in reply. "Germany builds her fleet." For the same reason that she keeps her great navy, Baron Bissing said. "They are a protection against war."

What Do English People Think?
"What do English people think the situation is?" asked Baron Bissing. "Not I; it is not true that Baron Bissing . . . Not; it is not true that Baron Bissing . . ."

"Why does England build her warships?" asked Baron Bissing in reply. "Germany builds her fleet." For the same reason that she keeps her great navy, Baron Bissing said. "They are a protection against war."

Trade Makes for Peace.
Baron Bissing is engaged in handling in Berlin, and he said that he was a country offering great opportunities for investment. Real estate, business interests and other opportunities were available in the Eastern cities and Winnipeg, and are going on to the coast.

COMPARES PENROSE TO A CUTTLE FISH

Col. Roosevelt, Vice-Presidential Candidate for Standard Oil, Denies He Knew of Standard Oil's Contribution to Campaign Funds.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Aug. 23.—A severe attack on Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, was made yesterday by Col. Roosevelt. The senator, he said, was like a cuttle fish, which, lacking the instinct of self-preservation, goes "ink" in the hope that it may escape. In flinging this epithet, Col. Roosevelt said that the Pennsylvania senator had been reached on the point involved as to the treatment to be accorded to the Panama canal.

Panama can situation is like a good deal of comment in the United States, predicted the standard oil man, and he reached on the point involved as to the treatment to be accorded to the Panama canal.

In the course of an interview he said:

"I am not in favor of the Panama canal for peace?"

Col. Roosevelt had paid a tribute to Parker Penrose. He then said:

"Now a word about honesty."

We can have any amount of honesty, but there is no such thing as business and politics by a natural sequence of thought. I now come to Senator Penrose.

"It is certain definite and specific charges were made against Mr. Penrose, and he did not know anything of them and had not even looked into the charge until Mr. Penrose got up in the Senate and spoke upon them. Wednesday he got up in the senate to deny those charges and brought in heavy charges against Mr. Penrose."

"I call your attention to an interesting fact. Penrose said he knew nothing of animal life. The cuttle fish, when the cuttle fish is attacked by an enemy, it is not afraid, it says 'I am a cuttle fish and try to escape, trusting that the enemy will attack the ink instead of me.'

"It is not safe to clear away the ink and catch the cuttle fish."

Baron Bissing thought that Col.

Roosevelt had paid him a tribute to Parker Penrose. He then said:

"Now a word about honesty."

We can have any amount of honesty, but there is no such thing as business and politics by a natural sequence of thought. I now come to Senator Penrose.

"It is certain definite and specific charges were made against Mr. Penrose, and he did not know anything of them and had not even looked into the charge until Mr. Penrose got up in the Senate and spoke upon them. Wednesday he got up in the senate to deny those charges and brought in heavy charges against Mr. Penrose."

"I call your attention to an interesting fact. Penrose said he knew nothing of animal life. The cuttle fish, when the cuttle fish is attacked by an enemy, it is not afraid, it says 'I am a cuttle fish and try to escape, trusting that the enemy will attack the ink instead of me.'

"It is not safe to clear away the ink and catch the cuttle fish."

Purdy Heard Evidence.

"Penrose," said Col. Roosevelt, "had that he heard that by my direction, $100,000 was asked for from the treasury to be used for the payment of his passage and that a further sum was asked for Mr. Penrose to repeat his speech to the Standard Oil Company."

Col. Roosevelt then referred to the letter which he gave Mr. Wednesday night, in which he said he was chairman of the Republican national committee in 1904, directing no campaign contributions to be received by the Standard Oil Company.

"Any man who reads those letters," said Col. Roosevelt, "will find that I acted in complete good faith and that if any contribution was made by the Standard Oil Company it was not to me, but to the General Hospital where he had been taken by the police the night before."

Col. Roosevelt continued: "I am a man of my word, and that I acted in complete good faith and that if any contribution was made by the Standard Oil Company it was not to me, but to the General Hospital where he had been taken by the police the night before."

Col. Roosevelt said he was doing everything in its power to beat me. Do you think that he was doing that? He was trying to beat me if I had been satisfactory to the Standard Oil Company, and that is one trust, not one individual, was lost to me, because while I was present."

"So much for the ink. Now for the cutting knife. Mr. Penrose states that he was arrested in 1912, and he was held in jail for six or eight days, and that he used it to help himself in my election. My running mate, Mr. David, was held in jail for six or eight days, and that he used it to help himself in my election. If he doubts that, I ask him to compare his experience in 1904 when he was arrested in 1904, and the time he went in alone. It was Penrose hanging onto Roosevelt and the ticket was Roosevelt and Penrose, and majority was Penrose without Roosevelt in 1912 and he got just about six or eight days."

"Penrose is right and not mine. If you like Mr. Penrose, you will accept the popular election of United States senator for 1912. Mr. Penrose came safely before the public as a hero, and I say if he wins out well and good, I should feel that the British public would be satisfied with the Bill that was passed. Let's have a look at the Bill, and I don't believe that there's no account for it."

On leaving the army Col. Roosevelt went to his train to return to New York.
